Seen in this light, there are winners on all sides using this system which is now also attracting attention nationwide. After the four-day inpatient treatment, the outpatient phase follows, during which the patients stay “on the radar” for three months, as Dr Augenstein, Senior Consultant vividly describes while speaking to Ralph Lorenz from the online news portal weserbergland-nachrichten.de.

Two points are quite decisive: continuous treatment from one source, and the well thought-out de-escalation concept for serious clinical pictures.

At the same time, this is an example of the progressive teamwork to be found in the world of Agaplesion hospitals. Not only in Lower Saxony.
